Quick Tips

- You can save your Study Concept or Protocol Submission at any stage of the process and complete it at a later date and time. Teva will not be able to review your submission until you have officially submitted it by selecting the 'Submit' button.
- Teva will review your Study Concept or Protocol Submission for completion, clarity, and compliance.
- You will receive an email notification upon approval or declination of your Study Concept or Protocol Submission. Please note that communications regarding your submission will come from your Teva Medical Affairs representatives.
- We request all submissions are in English.
- The Concept and Protocol Submission workflows are identical but may require slightly different or additional information.

Application

Applicants may register here: https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/teva_iss_application

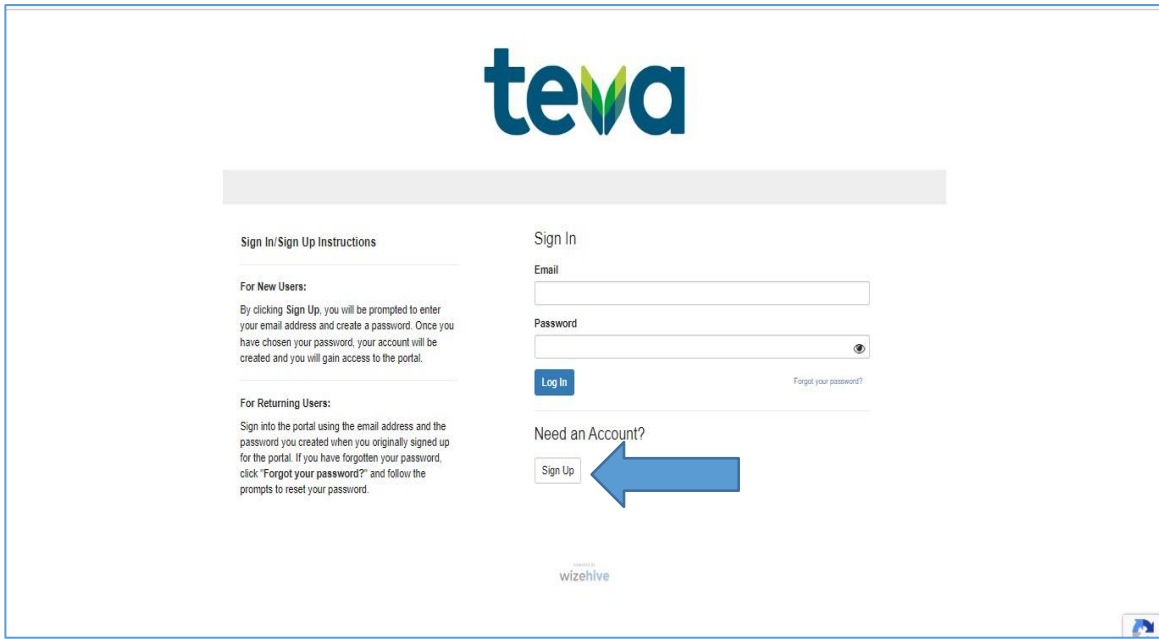

Study Concepts and/or Protocols must be submitted through the Teva submission intake portal (WizeHive system) for Collaborative Research or Investigator Sponsored Studies.

Once registration is successfully completed, a Study Concept or Protocol Submission may be submitted. For all studies, every field with a red asterisk must be completed and every required document must be uploaded. The Submission Intake Portal will not allow you to complete your submission unless all required fields are completed and required documentation is provided.

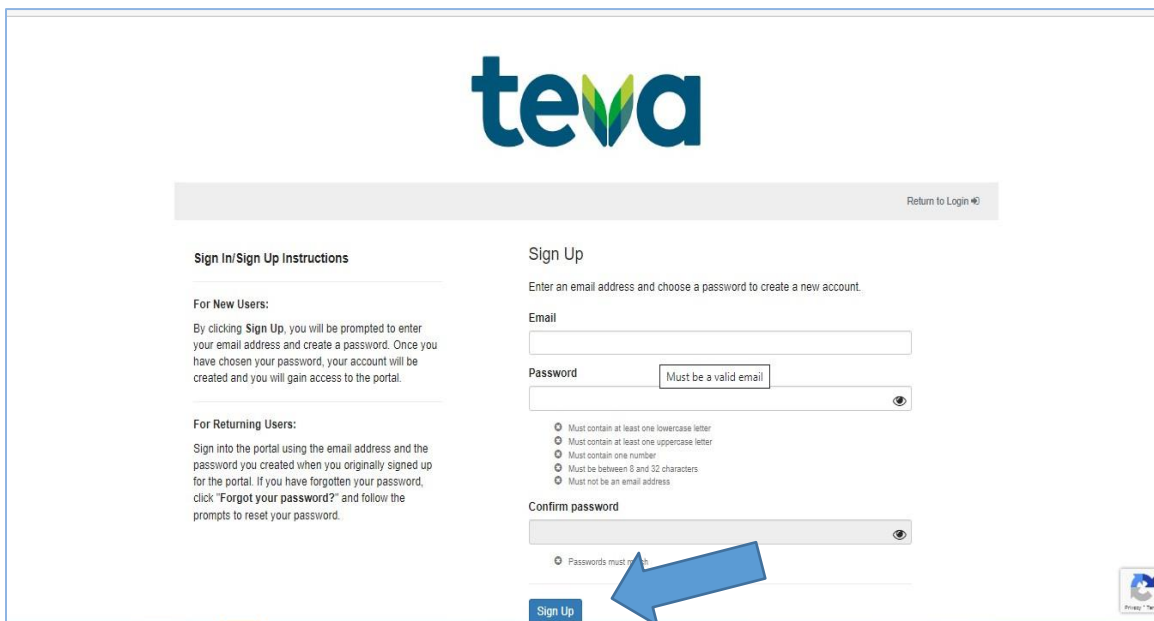

Study Profile Creation & Study Concept Application Intake

Applicants will access the WiseHive submission portal URL to sign up, create a profile, and submit their Study Concept Application via the TEVA ISS/CR Homepage.

Submission Portal. URL: https://webportalapp.com/sp/teva_iss_application

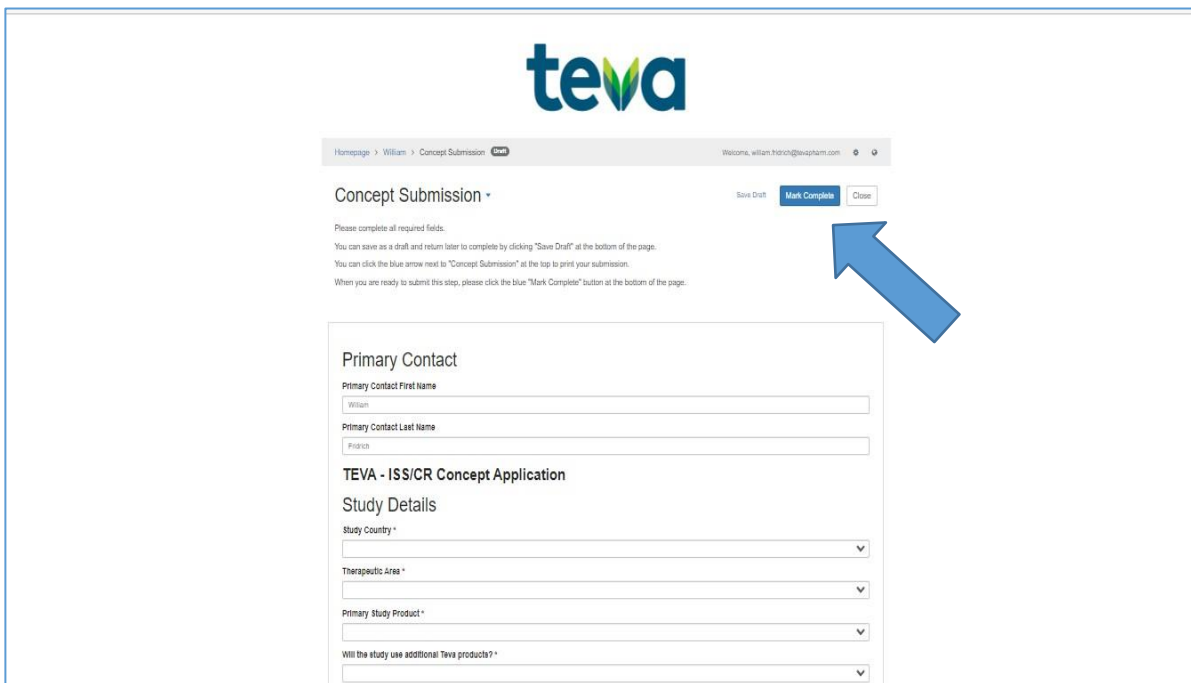

Applicants will create a profile in the WiseHive system. Once created, applicants will login to the portal to submit a Study Concept Application.

Applicants will submit a Study Concept Application by clicking the blue 'Open' tab to the right of Concept Submission.

When all fields of the Study Concept Submission are completed, the applicant clicks 'Mark Complete'.

To complete the Study Concept Application, the applicant clicks the green 'Submit' button, or makes edits to the application by clicking the 'Edit' button:

The green 'This has been submitted' button indicates the Study Concept Application has been successfully submitted.
